

Sales Graduate Program 2026

Launch Your Sales Career in Tech with Boxfusion (Midrand | Hybrid | 24-Month Program)

Are you a driven, energetic, and tech-curious graduate looking to kick-start your career in the software industry?

Do you want to learn how to sell powerful digital solutions to government and enterprise customers, build strong client relationships, and become an expert in product demonstrations, pricing, and customer engagement?

Boxfusion is recruiting for our 2026 Sales Graduate Program — a 24-month development journey designed to grow future Business Development professionals.

What the Program Offers

As a Sales Graduate, you will join a structured growth program designed to transform you into a confident, capable Junior Sales Administrator and future BDM Associate.

You'll gain hands-on experience in:

- Sales administration and accurate quote preparation
- Product mastery across all Boxfusion solutions
- Conducting demos (introductory → real client demos)
- Pricing, costing, and financial modelling
- Customer communication & expectation management
- Partner program support and onboarding
- Government procurement, transversal contracts & POPIA basics
- Cross-team collaboration with Projects, Finance, Product & Support
- Professionalism, EQ, personal brand, and career readiness

You'll work closely with senior BDMs and be coached every month to build confidence, capability, and client-facing excellence.

Who We're Looking For

We want graduates who are:

- Curious, ambitious, and eager to learn
- Confident communicators
- Professional, well-presented, and reliable
- Excited about technology and working with clients
- Strong problem-solvers with great energy
- Able to work under pressure and think on their feet
- Team players with a positive attitude

Minimum Requirements

Recently completed degree or diploma in:

- Sales, Marketing, Business, Commerce, IT, Information Systems, Industrial Psychology, or similar.
- Strong communication (verbal & written)
